The theme for 2025's National Nutrition Month is Food Connects Us, presented by eatright.org.

This March, reflect on how food connects you with family, friends, and your community! Traditions, memories, culture, health, and access to food shape the relationship we have with it. Some ideas to connect with your loved ones through food this month include:

1. As a family, commit to trying a new fruit or vegetable each week this month
2. Practice mindful eating by limiting screen time at mealtime
3. Encourage each family member to help with food preparation
4. Invite children to go grocery shopping with you, letting them get involved with food decisions

EARTH DAY APRIL 22

Earth is our only home! Show the planet some love this Earth Day by planting a tree, cleaning up loose litter in your community, and consider walking or biking to reduce your emissions.

Proper recycling year-round is essential to limiting our waste. RecycleSmartMA.org is an excellent resource that can guide you on how to properly dispose of just about anything!

Composting is another great way to reduce waste! It diverts organic materials from landfills, which lowers methane emissions, and improves soil health by providing nutrients and enhancing its structure.

SPRING PLANTING TIPS

March: Now is a great time to start seeds indoors for eggplant, peppers, and tomatoes. You can also get your potatoes, strawberries, asparagus crowns, rhubarb and onion started this month.

April: You can now sow seeds outdoors for asparagus, beets, carrots, Swiss chard, parsnips, spinach and turnips. You can also scatter annual flower seeds, they won't require covering!

May: You should plant any new trees and shrubs by the end of the month to promote survival. Growing tomatoes? Get your trellis system ready before the plants begin to crawl. Keep an eye on the weather, if it is warm enough you should be safe to plant most things outside and even move houseplants outdoors for the season!

TICK PREVENTION

Spring is here but it's the season of the ticks. Ticks are found near the ground in shady, damp, brushy, wooded, or grassy areas. Please use repellants, long pants and high socks, and try to wear light colored clothing, as ticks are more easily visible on a light background. Perform daily tick checks and remove ticks at once if found.

When removing a tick, grasp the tick close to the skin, by the head of the tick, and pull upward using tweezers. Avoid squeezing the body of the tick, which could result in the head being left behind during removal.
